Each camp week ends at 12 noon.

Navy Swimming Camp is a stroke intensive camp. It is designed to help a swimmer improve in each of the four individual strokes including starts and turns. One stroke will be highlighted each day, with a day reserved for starts and turns. Training will occur in each session, with swimmers receiving individual attention. Campers will receive daily instruction in dryland activities designed to improve individual fitness levels. The Navy stroke camp has three options to choose from; resident, extended day, commuter. Extended day and residential camps include special programming each evening. Campers will be under constant and professional supervision throughout their stay. A wide range of pertinent information will be offered throughout each day. Therefore, we recommend that each swimmer bring a notepad and pen.

Video Analysis:

Each year, one of the most popular aspects of the Navy camp is the opportunity for video analysis. Again in 2019, all campers will have their strokes taped and reviewed. Further analysis options may be available in 2019. Information about additional coaching programs and promotions will be sent out via email.

Bill Roberts – Camp Director/Head Coach

Bill Roberts enters his 16th season as the head coach of the Navy men's swimming team and his 19th year as part of the program's coaching staff in the fall of 2018.

Roberts has led the Mids to the Patriot League title in each of his 14 seasons on The Yard. Navy has tallied 168 swimming event crowns at the meet over this time, with the remainder of the league winning a combined 83 event titles. He has been tabbed as the league's coach of the year eight times.

Additionally during the Roberts era, Navy swimmers have annually taken part in national meets such as the World Championship Trials, the World Military Games, the ConocoPhillips National Championship, the USA Swimming Spring Championship and Arena Grand Prix meets.

Roberts co-founded the Navy Swimming Camp in 1998. Since 2004, he has served as the director for a camp that has grown into one of the most successful competitive swimming camps in the country. During this time, nearly 4000 swimmers have learned more about competitive swimming at the Naval Academy.

In addition to the stated purpose of the camp (see page to right), a primary point in the philosophy is to instill a lifetime commitment to the sport of swimming. We fully believe that every swimmer who attends camp has the potential to develop and grow in to a competing athlete well beyond their high school years. Another primary focal point in the design of the Navy swimming camp is teamwork. As you would expect from a military-related institution, campers will be asked to welcome the opportunity to work together as a team throughout their time at camp. Though we are proud of the current state of the Navy Swimming Camp, we continue to seek out new ways to evolve the camp for the better and without sacrificing anything that has been critically instrumental in our success to date."

Mark Liscinsky – Camp Director/Asst. Coach

Mark Liscinsky began his sixth season as an assistant coach with the Navy men's swimming team in the fall of 2018.

The Mids have won both the Patriot League and ECAC championship meets during his each of his first five years on The Yard, while also compiling a 44-17 record during the regular season.

On the national stage, Liscinsky competed in the NCAA Championship Meet as a senior, was a finalist in multiple events at the U.S. Senior Nationals, qualified for three U.S. Olympic Team Trials and was a member of the U.S. team that took part in the 2003 World University Games.

Coach Liscinsky supervises the camp in every location. From pool sessions in Lejeune Hall, to meals in King Hall, dryland training in Wesley Brown, and afternoon activities around the Yard. His favorite part of camp is being a lead coach, where he gets to teach the campers a different stroke each week. He also videos every camper underwater, so they can review it and get feedback from their Seal Team leaders.

Camp Staff

Each camp season, an energetic and experienced staff is put together. Staff members will come from across the United States with a variety of experiences to their credit. Staff members are active in the American swimming community. A list of past staff members is listed on the camp website. We do our best to target people we believe to be committed to teaching within the sport of competitive swimming.

To offer a safe and secure environment for your sons and daughters. To provide excellent instruction and training with an emphasis on technique and skill. To provide each swimmer a fun, exciting and enthusiastic environment to come to camp.

Expect huge results by being part of the 2019 Navy Swimming Camp this summer!

We offer a unique environment to learn and develop your competitive strokes, including all related starts, turns and finishes. The most important goal is to provide the very best in individual instruction and evaluation, safety/supervision and overall camper experience.

From here, our aim is to maximize learning opportunities geared towards improving technique. Additional pool sessions are offered to all desiring to maintain conditioning while at camp. The full schedule for 2019 includes video analysis, dry land activities designed to improve individual fitness levels, performance, training, goal-setting and leadership presentations, and the Navy time trials meet.
